About Chiswick House & Gardens

Chiswick House & Gardens Trust celebrates the work of Richard Boyle, 3rd Earl of Burlington and the architect and designer William Kent. Now a Grade I Listed built and natural landscape, Chiswick House & Gardens is considered one of the birthplaces of the English Landscape Movement, whilst the design of the House helped set the trend for the neo-Classicism that defined Georgian architecture.

Patrons of Chiswick House & Gardens support all aspects of the Trust's work, from maintaining the London in Bloom award-winning landscape, to the conservation and upkeep of Chiswick House and volunteer and public activities. Membership gives you a range of benefits including access to House and Gardens experts, opportunities to visit related cultural institutions, and chances to enjoy the landscape through the seasons.
